Critical Illness Insurance

from LifeSecure Insurance Company

Supplement your medical coverage and help protect your family, lifestyle and finances.

Your medical plan offers health care coverage you and your family rely on. Now you can supplement your benefits beyond medical with Critical Illness insurance.

A major health event like a heart attack or cancer can quickly throw an average family into a financial crisis. While health insurance will help cover medical expenses, you may not be prepared for other financial setbacks that can occur when you're diagnosed with a critical illness. From lost income and medical deductibles to out-of-network office visits and uncovered treatments – these can all contribute to a financial hardship. Cash benefits from a Critical Illness insurance plan can help pay the expenses traditional health insurance doesn't cover, enabling you to focus on recovery.
